

oil of tar, alcohol, opium, and other such substances, are often employed as remedies for the toothache. But these only aggravate the evil, by accelerating the decay, and often disordering the gums. The wisest course is to seek prevention in cleanliness in the manner already pointed out, and by living upon simple and pure articles of diet. But when decay has taken its seat, the best remedy is to have the apertures filled with a substance which hardens therein, and thus supplies an artificial enamel to shield the nerve from irritation.

THE WEST.

Come, brethren, let us haste away,
On Babel's shores no longer stay,

But, cheerful, let us bid adieu
To all who with us will not go:
By tyranny oppress'd,
Our home is in the West.

The servants of the Lord declare,
To Zion we must now repair,

Then linger not on hostile ground,
But haste where freedom reigns around,
The valley of the West.

No dangers on the deep we fear;
Jehovah's arm He will make bare,
And guide us to our rest.

Then onward, brethren, let us go,
Columbia is the land, you know:
Our home is in the West.

EULOGIES ON THE DEATH OF JOHN Q

BY SENATORS DAVIS AND HENRY

In the Senate the Hon. John Davis, of Massachusetts of Mr. Adams in the following words:—

Mr. President—By the recent affliction of my colleague upon me. The message just delivered from the Hon God has been again among us. A great and noble man If, in speaking of John Quincy Adams, I can give utterance to my heart, I am confident I shall meet with a response: He was born in the then Province of Massachusetts, self for the great revolutionary struggle which was then is too well known to need even an allusion; yet I may be father seemed born to aid in the establishment of our mother was a suitable companion and co-labourer of such hymns of the child were the songs of liberty. The power for self government were the topics which he most fervently the wise men of the day; and the inspiration thus came to his after life. Thus early imbued with the love of f his father...
