Dear LaVell:

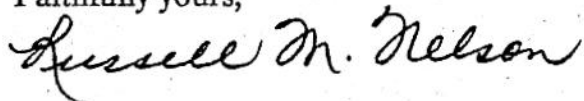

We were saddened to learn of the passing of your dear mother, Addie. Although she was 92 years-of-age it is never easy to say good-bye to one's mother.

One of the most memorable experiences in my surgical career was the high honor I felt in serving her. I shall never forget the feeling I had as I addressed the many wonderful members of the family who were there to exhibit their appropriate concern for her welfare at the time of her open-heart surgery.

Surely one of the great joys of her life was in the accomplishments of her children. You should derive great comfort from knowing that you were part of that feeling of fulfillment.

Dantzel joins with me in extending to you and to Patti our deepest sympathy at this time of your bereavement.

Faithfully yours,

Russell M. Nelson
