GATES TIPS WAITER WITH $900

Minneapolis, July 30.—A negro waiter in a cafe here is overjoyed at the generosity of Charles G. Gates, son of the late John W. Gates, whose dinner check amounted to $100. He sold it from a $1000 bill and slipped the $900 in the negro's palm and said: "Here boy, take this stuff; you will get more pleasure out of it than I can."

BEAN FUNERAL DRAWS BIG THROUNG

With a large crowd of friends, neighbors and relatives participating, the funeral of the late V. E. Bean, for many years a prominent resident of La Grande and who was killed last Saturday when a tree fell on him while at work at the Lambert mill, was held this afternoon from the L. D. S. tabernacle of which organization the deceased was a prominent member. Many out of town acquaintances were in attendance.

Mr. Bean was killed while in the act of warning some of his workmen of the danger they were in at the moment.

Victor E. Bean was the son of Judge Geo. W. and Elizabeth Baum Bean.

His life had ever been one of trust and activity both in religious and civic affairs. He was born February 5, 1864, at Provo, Utah, his parents being early pioneers of Utah. At the age of 20 years he filled a two years mission in the central states baptizing many people. Soon after his return he married Mary Hannah Baker, of Richfield, Utah, daughter of W. G. and Hannah Baker, also early pioneers of Utah.

For a number of years his life was spent as an educator, being superintendent of schools where he resided and also county superintendent of schools

He also acted as councilman and other offices of trust in his city.

In the year 1903 he and his family moved to La Grande, where he has since been engaged in business and farming, always gaining friends in all his dealings. His life has ever been a staunch Latter Day Saint and has ever been spent in fulfilling the duties of many both minor and high callings in his church wherever he happened to live; also filling a number of missions. His life has stood out strongly among his associates for its virtue, purity and unspotted honor.

His death is felt keenly by a great number of friends throughout a number of states and by many relatives and loved ones.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Hannah Bean, and 10 children, Mary Ethel, Andrew, of Burley, Idaho; Victor V. Bean, who is filling a mission to the northern states; Ariel, Erma, Walter, Ellis, Grant, Jesse, Lila and May.

Besides his family, all but Victor V. being present at his funeral, his brother, Virginia Bean, his wife's mother, Hannah Baker, her elder brother, Geo. Baker and daughter, Ida Baker, younger sister, Lizzie, of Garden and niece, Mildred Baker, of Richfield, Utah, are here to attend the funeral.
