- (1) Grandfather Justo Aflague - descendant of a Chanoko chief, & high in the Spanish Administration of the Island.
- (2) Your grandmother was, Manuela.
- (3) The family pet or nickname was Carroon.

The children of the above named grandparents were as follows;

- (a) Mariano Aflague (deceased)
- (b) Ignacio Aflague (deceased) your own father
- (c) Ramona Aflague (deceased)
- (d) Felis Aflague (deceased)
- (e) Manuel Aflague (deceased)

The family home was right in front of the cathedral (St. Maria) in the capital city of Havana, Spain. The cathedral and the Aflague home both were destroyed by the war.

It would appear from the above that your Christian name was taken from both your grandfather and your father. The progeny of this family are many in Spain - I myself and my.
