I want to let you know that I am still trying to live yet. So very thankful to let you know that God has Blessed me + I am <sup>among</sup> ~~among~~ friends + relatives that are trying to help me. This family is very busy trying to do their part - - Caring for those that seem to be their duty.

I am very poorly physically etc. My eyes are very poorly as well as physically. I try to do what I can but very little. My back more helpless but Thank God it does not hurt me much - helpless. Cannot handle the little fellow less than 3 yrs old + he often resents me.

Sorry that I could not help with garden. Even set out lettuce plants.

Usually set the dinner table for 7 people. All have work part time. Attend Church services + vthe work of Church organizations. I remember faces but cannot always names.

Am trying to organize what I have + wish that my family had some?

The family things. Green tooth pick holder that was always on the table.

My knees about to quit me. Am very sore today as I went down very easy last night when I lost my balance

2:30 pm not so sore but believe knee joints are weaker. Weather warmer but mostly cloudy.

I have a.m. not so sore but weak

Was to take Patty + go Grocery shopping

10:50 AM + Emma not here. Rest are dressed to go. I threw a sweat last night. Had bath + changed bed
