

Note the message below from Bill Gates Sr., father of the Bill Gates of Microsoft fame. At 6'7", he towered over us all and we affectionately referred to him as "Big Bill." He was the managing partner of the firm during the entirety of the time Craig and I were there. I remember one time talking with Bill about the kind of lawyers we wanted to hire for the firm, and Bill said something to the effect "If I had the ability the ability to use a screen for outstanding lawyers, it would be a Mormon screen." Bill was raised a Christian Scientist, and I think that was his way of paying the highest compliment to our religion. Craig was always a big fan of Bill Gates, and as you see, the feeling was mutual.
