
MARRIED.

HOWELL-HAINES—At the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco, December 10, 1901, Eugene Howell of Carson, Nevada, and Miss Maud Haines of Genoa, Nevada.

HOWELL-HAINES WEDDING

A Popular Nevada State Official Marries Today a Popular Nevada Maiden.

In the parlors of the Occidental Hotel in San Francisco, this morning, at 11 o'clock, a scene was enacted wherein two prominent Nevada people played leading parts.

Hon. Eugene Howell, Secretary of State, was married to Miss Maud Haines, of Genoa. Miss Haines is the daughter of the late J. W. Haines.

Several Nevada people were present to witness the ceremony.

The "Gazette" hopes the pathway of Mr. and Mrs. Howell may be all sunshine, and that no shadows, be it ever so slight, may darken the roses that lie in front of them today.

Mr. Howell is deservedly popular in this State, and has made one of the most painstaking officials ever elected by this commonwealth.

Miss Haines is a most charming girl.

The "Gazette" offers its congratulations and throws all the old shoe in the office and a sack of China rice after the happy pair.
