Class objective: Become acquainted with various online websites for researching Mexican ancestors.

AIDS FOR IDENTIFYING PLACES
In order to access the records of our ancestors it is important to know who created the records and where they are kept. The knowledge of jurisdictions, civil and ecclesiastical, for the places where our ancestors lived will help us to know where they might be kept and which entity, governmental or religious, created them. The following websites will aid you in identifying jurisdictions.

Gazetteers - Diccionarios geográficos
These can be useful for identifying municipalities. Civil registration records are one example of a vital record that would be created by municipalities.

Diccionario geográfico, histórico y biográfico de los Estados Unidos Mexicanos by Antonio García Cubas.
- Two different websites with the same book
- Digital collection of the Universidad Autónoma de Nuevo León [UANL] - http://cdigital.dgb.uanl.mx/la/1080011597_C/1080011597_C.html PDF version

Church Directories – Directorios eclesiásticos
To identify the name and address of a parish.
- Some have alphabetical lists organized by archdiocese, diocese, and prelatures.
- Usually contain more information about parishes.
- You may need to know the name of the diocese, archdiocese or prelature of a parish to find it.

Parroquias de México (Parishes of Mexico)- http://parroquiasdemexico.com/
